"Our paramount concern is to ensure that we have a strong team of leaders in place in our school communities and at the Board level to oversee the portfolios of student success, curriculum and special education," stated Toffanello. "Our goal is to assign to each position the individuals who are best equipped to assume these responsibilities based on their experience, their expertise and their ability to enhance the learning environment for students. At the same time, we strive to create sustainable leadership, and to provide a sense of continuity in our Catholic schools for the future. Our principals are enthusiastic about their assignments and look forward to building new relationships and learning experiences with students, teachers, staff and the parent community in the coming year."

"I would also like to express my appreciation to Angelo Anselmo and Rick Brassard for their relentless commitment to Catholic education in our communities," added Toffanello. "The knowledge and practical experience of these seasoned veterans has proven valuable to us when we encountered challenges or embarked on new initiatives."

Additional appointments to fill vacancies created by these transfers and retirements will be announced in the coming months.
