

School Uniforms for Aileen Wright English Catholic School

Aileen Wright English Catholic School in Cochrane will begin the 2007-2008 school year sporting new trendy fashions.

In January, the Catholic School Council invited all parents to vote whether the school should adopt School Uniforms and after tabulating the votes over 71% supported the decision to implement the new fashions in September.

The uniform will consist of solid black bottoms and a variety of royal blue short sleeve and long sleeve T-shirts, Hoodies and knit vests all embroidered with the school logo.

June 5th, the Catholic School Council, staff and students hosted a B.B.Q. and fashion show for all parents to attend. All proceeds from the BBQ will go towards purchasing one school uniform item for all students currently enrolled at Aileen Wright English Catholic School.

School Uniforms will...

- instill a strong sense of belonging and pride for our students
- eliminate morning arguments and indecision over what to wear
- encourage our young learners to express their individuality through personality and achievement instead of outward appearances
- eliminate the competition to dress as well as - or better than - everyone else, as well as reduce the influence of peer pressure to dress in particular fashions
- over time, be less expensive because fewer pieces are required and they can be handed down without looking outdated
- increase security since trespassers will easily be identifiable

Parents and students can place their School
Uniform orders by August 1st at Y & S in Cochrane.
