

Trustees Visit Our Catholic Schools

Colleen Landers and Rick Brassard spend time with the students of St. Patrick School in Cobalt.

The Grade 6 class of St. Anne English Catholic School in Iroquois Falls gather with Colleen Landers, Chair of the Board, and Rick Brassard, Vice-Chair of the Board.

The Trustees of the Northeastern Catholic District School Board are driven to make decisions that benefit and impact the success of our students. Recently, while touring our Catholic schools, the Trustees saw first hand the many successes that take place everyday.

In our Catholic Schools, students are collecting food items for the local food banks of their communities, school spirit is exemplified through the implementation of new school uniforms at Aileen Wright and students are reaching new academic heights through the implementation of new teaching and assessment strategies.

“Our schools achieve success in many ways through their efforts in literacy, numeracy, faith development and a host of academic and non-academic activities that promote student achievement and the development of the whole child.” stated Rick Brassard, Vice-Chair, Board of Trustees.

Trustees - Colleen Landers and Rick Brassard and the students from St. Patrick School in Kapuskasing.

Aileen Wright English Catholic School students in Cochrane with Rick Brassard, Colleen Landers and Liz King, Board Trustees.

